RULES

AND

REGULATIONS

TO BE OBSERVED BY THE

Friendly Society

in key all text

, is the clock of OF

· is the second of the second of the second of the last later

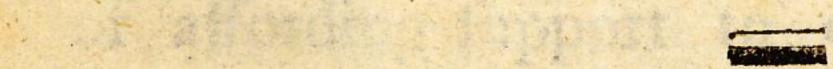

The address of the test of the best mental the second second

DORNOCH.

Wesn few of the lineaties of the destern

of the next he weighbourhe at definite

The same may have not the second the same start of h ather when H

Inverness, PRINTED AT THE JOURNAL OFFICE. .... 1811.

RULES

A TANK PRODUCTION STATISTICS

AND MALL OF TRANSMENT

Contractor and the second

REGULATIONS, &c.

IN confideration of the necessitous circumftances to which all mankind are liable to be reduced from innumerable causes; and knowing that a laudable cuftom has for many years prevailed in this and the neighbouring kingdoms, of perfons forming themselves into focieties for the pious and benevolent purposes of affording relief to fuch of their members as should happen in the course of providence to be visited by sickness, accident, or distress; We, a few of the Inhabitants of the town of Dornoch and its neighbourhood, defirous of affording support to each other when it. may please God to afflict us, after mature confideration, have resolved to institute a Friendly Society for the benefit of those of its members who may happen to be placed in any of the above distressing situations. 1700 And whereas by an act of Parliament pal-

fed in the thirty third year of his prefent Majefty's reign, George the Third, entituled an act for the government and relief of Friendly Societies within Great Britain, we have it in our power to form fuch Society by complying with the regulations and provisions contained in the faid act to fecure whatever funds we shall be able to raife, and to apply them to the forefaid purposes.

Therefore, we the inhabitants of the town of Dornoch and its neighbourhood before mentioned, at a meeting held here this feventh day of November, eighteen hundred and ten, do hereby form a Friendly Society to be known and diffinguished in all time coming during the existence of the same, by the name or title of DORNOCH FRIENDLY SOCIETY; and in order to the utmost of our power to promote good order and decorum of behaviour among the members, we have established the following rules, as a ftandard whereby our proceedings shall be regulated, which shall remain in force, and be binding on every member thereof, until the fame be altered or repealed in terms of the forefaid act.

And we humbly pray the Honourable his Majesty's Justice of the Peace for the County of Sutherland, to approve of and confirm the fame in the manner directed by the faid act of Parliament.

THAT this Society shall always meet in the School-house of Dornoch, until just caule for removing it, which will be decided by a majority of the members at a general meeting. And this Society will admit none as members but men of good character, and of a found and healthy constitution ; free from maim, bruise, gravel, rupture, falling fickness, or any external diforder, and in perfect health at the time of his offering himfelf for admiffion, and not above the age of forty-five years, until the number of members amounts to forty, afterwards the Society will only admit as members men of the above description, and not above forty years of age, until the number of members shall amount to two hundred, and as foon as the number of members amounts to the faid two hundred, none will be admitted above thirty-five years of age, and those offering themselves for admission must be known by at leaft two members of the Society for the space of fix months immediately preceding; he must be perfonally present at entering, and must enter his own name, occupation, and age, and if married, his wife's name, with the names and ages of his children. Any person entering as a member of this Society above the age mentioned in these regulations, or afflicted with any bodily infirmity at the time he enters fo as to become a burden to this Society, shall as soon as it is known be expelled the Society, and whatever money he may have paid thereto shall be forfeited.

ARTICLE I.

ARTICLE II.

THAT this Society shall be directed by a President, vice President, Treasurer, and twelve managers, who shall be elected at the annual general meeting, and to continue in their respective offices one year only. The Prefident, vice Prefident, and Treasurer, are always to be confidered as members of the committee for the enfuing year in addition to those above mentioned.

The annual general meeting will be held on the first Wednesday of August at twelve o'clock noon, and the quarterly meetings on the first Wednesday of November, February, and May, at fix o'clock in the afternoon. That the President, vice President, Treasurer, Clerk, and fix of the managers, shall be chosen from among the members reliding within the parish of Dornoch. Any member elected into office who shall refuse to officiate therein, shall be liable to the following fines, viz.---The Prefident, vice Prefident, and Treasurer, four shillings sterling, and each of the managers two shillings and fix pence sterling. Any member who has ferved three times in any of the three first mentioned offices shall be at liberty to refuse without paying a fine. The President, vice President, Treasurer, and Clerk, and three managers, shall constitute a quorum for any ordinary business, providing all the committee within the parish of Dornoch be called and cannot attend. All the above managers must attend at every quarterly meeting, otherwise they will be liable to pay a fine of two shillings, and fix pence to the box at each time. All members of this Society, refiding within nine miles of Dornoch, shall always be obliged to attend the annual general meeting in clean and decent apparel, under the penalty of fix pence to be paid into the box, and no quarterly payments or funeral money to be received until all fines be paid. As this Society may confift of a number of members from different parishes at a distance from Dornoch, who cannot conveniently attend at all meetings, such members may meet on Monday immediately before the quarterly meeting at the house of any one of them, or any other place convenient, to pay their quarterly payments, funeral money, or fines, (if any be due) to any one of themselves, to be remitted to the Society on the quarterly meeting night; and also to meet on the Monday previous to the annual general meeting, in like manner for the purpose of appointing two perfons to represent the members of such parish at the general meeting of the Society, it not being hereby understood to exclude any member from attending and voting at the different meetings of the Society, if he inclines to appear. That there shall be a Clerk appointed by the Society, who may continue as long as the Society thinks proper, whole business shall be to keep the books of the Society, an exact account of all the money received and difbursed, and a list of all the members' names and places of abode, and he must attend all regular and extraordinary meetings. If at any time he fall sick, or is otherways indifposed and cannot attend, he must appoint a proper person, one of the members, to officiate in his stead, but in failing to attend himself or sending a proper person to officiate for that may occur, and to keep the door, &c. at all meetings to prevent strangers from intruding.

Тнат the Society shall provide a box or cheft sufficient to contain the books and papers belonging thereto, with an infide locker or till, sufficient to contain any cash or bills belonging to the Society. The faid till to be provided with a proper lock and key, which key is always to remain in the hands of the Treasurer for the time being. The faid box shall have three substantial locks and keys different from one another, which keys shall be lodged with the Prefident, Vice-Prefident, and first elected Managers at the election.

The faid box shall be lodged with a respectable person in the town of Dornoch, who shall give security to the Society for the faid box, and money, &c. therein contained, from all arrefts on his account, and all damages whereby the Society may fustain loss while . under his care, and shall deliver the same to him, he shall be liable to a fine of five shillings to the box for every fuch neglect. There shall be an officer appointed in order to warn the committee to any extraordinary meeting the Stewards at fuch times as the Committee shall think proper.

ARTICLE III.

Those entrusted with keys are to give punctual attendance at each quarterly and annual meeting, exactly at the hour appointed, under the penalty of a fixpence sterling for each neglect; and if any key-keeper shall neglect to bring his key himfelf, or to fend it by a person in whom he can confide, to any meeting, fo as to prevent them from proceeding to transact the business of the Society, he shall for every such offence forfeit the penalty of two shillings and fixpence sterling, besides the expense of the box being broke open, and repaired; and if any key-keeper bring to the meeting more than one key of the faid box, he also shall be liable to a fine of two shillings and fixpence sterling. The funds of this Society shall never be removed from the town of Dornoch on any pretence whatever.

ARTICLE IV.

ТНАТ any perfon wishing to enter as a member of this Society, must be proposed and recommended by one of the members, and on being proposed, shall pay two shillings and fix-pence. If rejected by the Society as be-unfit, the money shall be returned, but if approved of, he shall pay five shillings, including the faid two shillings and fix-pence as his admission fee, until the number of members amount to fifty; and from fifty to a hundred, ten shillings; and from a hundred to a hundred and fifty, fifteen shillings; and from a hundred and fifty to two hundred, twenty shillings, and from two hundred, to two hundred and fifty, twenty five shillings, and from two hundred and fifty to three hundred, thirty shillings; and from three hundred, to three hundred and fifty, thirty five shillings; and from three hundred and fifty to four hundred, two pounds sterling; likwise two shillings for his quarterly payments, a fix-pence for a book of articles, a fix-pence to the Clerk, and twopence to the Officer, at his entry; and to continue to pay quarterly the faid sum of two shillings, and at each general meeting twopence to the Clerk, and a penny to the Officer, by each member, besides the quarterly payments; also at the first quarterly meeting after the death of a member, a fix-pence, and after the death of a member's wife four-pence, or fo much each as will make up the fum allowed at their funeral, when the member, or members are below two hundred, for the purpose of reimbursing the fund for the money paid at their funeral.

Any member having a wife at the time of his entry, is to pay a fix-pence at entry, and fix-pence every quarter, over and above the quarterly payments above mentioned; and any member marrying after he enter, shall pay fix-pence to the fund, and three-pence to the Clerk, the first meeting thereafter, and fixpence quarterly to entitle their wives to the widow's annual allowance, &c. Any member receiving the funeral allowance for one wife, and marrying again must pay the first quarterly meeting five shillings to the box, and three-pence to the Clerk, and fix-pence quarterly thereafter as above, but no benefit to be .given for more than two wives.' Any member marrying when he is above fixty years of age, his wife will not be entitled to any annual allowance, nor will any extra quarterly payments be received from him for that CET, LY BROW TANKED, BUILTES purpose.

ARTICLE V.

artsr the d

THAT the funds of this Society shall continue shut for the space of four years from its commencement, and the capital to continue at the fame fum it amounts to at the expiration of the faid four years, below which fum it shall never be allowed to fall, nor the fund to be longer shut upon any pretence whatever. No member to receive any benefit from the Society until he has been four complete years a member, but in case of a member, or member's wife's death, in that case their funeral allowance will be paid, and made up as in Article IV. all and many to those does de

THAT upon any member being taken fick or lame, or otherwise afflicted with any bodily infirmity, so as to render him incapable of earning his daily bread, and has paid his dues regularly into the Society for four complete years, by fending information to the Prefident, he shall order the visitors to visit him next day, if within the visiting district, which is within the parish of Dornoch; and on finding the diftress agreeable to the tenor of those articles, he shall at the end of seven days after the date of his application, (it is understood that no member is to receive any allowance from the Society but from the date of his application, this being observed,) each week receive the fum of five shillings sterling per week, for the space of three months,

ARTICLE VI.

STOCHT SAN

ance to be carried by the

and three shillings and fix-pence per week for other three months, and two shillings per week for other fix months, if his illness continues so long; but if his complaint be deemed incurable by a physician, in that cafe he shall at the next general meeting be put on the superannuated lift, and will be paid one pound six shillings per quarter for life, at each quarterly meeting. The weekly allowance to be carried to the fick members weekly, by the visitors, from the treasurer, and if they neglect to visit or carry the allowance at the time to a fick member, the offending party will be fined in the fum allowed to the faid fick member at the time for every fuch offence, if it so happen that a member's wife and two or three of his children should be fick, or confined to bed at one time, fuch members shall be entitled to a fick member's allowance at the time, until two of them recover.

If any member be confined in prison upon any other account than for civil debt, and shall there fall fick, his allowance shall be at the pleasure of the Society, but if confined for debt he shall have the same allowance as any other member during his ficknefs. If any dispute shall arise betwixt the Steward and fick members concerning their cafe, the fame shall be decided by a surgeon who is to be allowed for each visit for his trouble. If any member refiding without the vifiting district shall fall fick, in that case any perfon whom they shall appoint, may receive the money allowed, on fending a certificate of their illnefs, figned by the minister and two elders, or 'church wardens of the parish where they reside, and if required, a letter from a surgeon, explaining the nature of the difease, and the postage of all letters to be paid by the applicant. No perfon to be entitled to any benefit . . from the fund who has contracted difeafes from a lewd and diffolute life, or the effect of excessive drinking or irregularity, which tends to impair the health, or who receives hurt by fighting, unless in self defence; but if his complaint should terminate in death, his funeral to be provided for the fame as any other member; and should the Stewards be suspicious that any member's complaint arifes from the above causes, they shall acquaint the Prefident thereof, who is to fuspend the benefit until a confultation be held with the Committie, before, or on the next meeting night, who are to act as they find most expedient: and upon inquiring if such member's claim be just, what money has been fufpended fhall be paid him, but if found impofing on the Society he muft return what money he has received, and pay a fine of five fhillings to the fund, or be excluded the Society; and upon any member's recovery, who has been receiving benefit, he fhall as foon as he is able to follow his ordinary employment give notice thereof to the Prefident, and in failing of fo doing, if he be found at work while receiving the benefit, he fhall be fined in a week's allowance and receive no more for that complaint, and if found drunk or gambling while receiving the benefit, to be fined in like manner and the benefit ftopped.

15

ARTICLE VII.

In the second

Reconstruction of

THAT at the death of any member, his widow or next in kin fhall immediately after his difeafe be entitled to receive from the treafurer of the Society, the fum of three pounds fterling to defray the funeral charges when the number of members are below one hundred and fixty; four pounds if above that number; and five pounds if the number of members be above two hundred, &c. and likwife at the death of a member's wife, the neareft in kin fhall be entitled to two pounds to defray the funeral expences when the number of members does not exceed one hundred and twenty; if above one hundred and eighty, three pounds will be allowed, &c. but if the neareft relations of the deceafed be fuch that the managers cannot confide in, in that cafe the money is to be laid out at the difcretion of the managers, who are to take particular care that the fame be properly applied. When any member of this Society is called away by death, all the members within that parifh fhall punctually attend the funeral of their deceafed brother, dreffed in decent apparel.

ARTICLE VIII.

No fum or fums of money shall be lent by the Society but on lawful interest, and on fuch fecurity as shall be approved of by a majority of the Committee. No member of the Society shall be taken as fecurity for any money belonging to it; and any perfon borrowing money of this Society, must find two fecurities as aforefaid. The Treasurer shall be accountable to the Society for all the money collected by him, and for all deficiency that may occur at ballancing of the books, and shall produce receipts for all sums of money paid for the use of the Society; and every Prefident, on the night he enters his office, and next quarterly night shall publicly declare the amount of the stock when he entered, and also the sums of money received and paid the year preceding, as entered in the books kept for that purpose, and the allowance for sick members, &c. shall be fixed for the year according to the state of the Society's funds. The benefits are always to be augmented or reduced according to the state of the funds at each annual general meeting, taking care always that there will be fufficiency over and above the state of stock, viz. The amount of the stock at the end of story years to meet the expences of the year.

ARTICLE IX.

No members to receive aliment, or allowance while they are indebted to the Society, more than a quarter; and any member receiving the Society allowance fhall pay his quarterly and other burdens as they fhall fall due, in the fame manner as other members fubject to the like confequences in cafe of non-payment; alfo, if any member die indebted to the Society, his executors fhall pay the faid debt out of the funeral allowance. If any member be indebted to the Society to the amount of two quarterly payments, he fhall be fined in a fix-pence, and if in arrear for three quarters, to be fined in the like fum, and the Clerk shall inform him by a letter, that he is so many months in arrear, specifying the sum due; and if not paid at the fourth quarter, that member to be excluded, unless he has given information to the Clerk within twelve months from his last payments, of his being necessarily obliged to remove out of Scotland, to · England or Ireland, and the place where he is to refide, upon which he will get from the Society a certificate of his being a member! thereof, agreeable to the faid act of Parliament, granted in favour of Friendly Societies, in which case he will be allowed eighteen months, and out of Britain and Ireland, two years before he be expelled.

A. 19. 19

No partial payments to be received. If any member fhall enlift in his Majefty's fervice either as foldier or failor, except in the local militia, fhall be excluded, unlets he be ballotted and ferve for himfelf in the regular militia; in fuch cafe, if he return in the fpace of five years, in perfect health, he fhall be admitted a free member, on paying up his arrears.

ARTICLE X. ANY member dying and leaving a widow, after he has been four years a member of this Society, from the date of his entry, and paying punctually and regularly thereto, his widow after his deceafe fhall be entitled to twenty fhillings per annum during her widowhood; and if any children are left under the age of fourteen years, they fhall be entitled to ten fhillings per year until they arrive at the age of fourteen years complete, and if any orphan children are left under the age of fourteen years, they fhall be entitled to one pound fterling each per annum, while they are under the age of fourteen years, and no longer.

ARTICLE XI.

IF any member of this Society be found guilty of any enormous crimes, in any of his Majefties Courts of Juftice, he fhall upon fuch conviction be excluded for ever from having any benefit therefrom; and if any member trufts another with his quarterly payments, if the fame neglects or delays to pay the faid money on the firft quarterly night, fuch members fhall be fined in two fhillings to the box, for the firft fault, four fhillings for the fecond, and the third time, eight fhillings, or be excluded. And any member introducing a ftranger on the quarterly night, unlefs he be nominated, fhall be fined in one fhilling to the box; and no member to nominate any perfon unlefs he can vouch for his fobriety and induftry, and being well difpofed towards the King and conftitution of this country, as by law eftablifhed. Any members acting otherwife fhall be fined in two fhillings and fix-pence, and fhould any of the managers be found fcreening any member from paying his fines or arrears due to the Society, they fhall pay the fame themfelves, and a fine of two fhillings and fix-pence for every fuch offence.

NONE shall direct their discourse while engaged in the business of the Society, but to the President, neither shall any more than one perfon presume to speak at a time so as to interrupt one another, and every perfon shall deliver his opinion and speak, or be silent as the President shall direct, under the penalty of three-pence sterling for each offence.

It shall not be lawful for any perfon or perfons to introduce any other subject of debate or conversation besides the actual and immediate business of this Society. If any such improper subject shall be introduced, the perfon guilty of the same, or any other supporting him, shall be immediately ordered to be filent, and

Anderson and belARTICLE XII. Depring-alles

unfillent net mit hon ment link sond in if they perfift they shall be fined in three-pence sterling. If any member swear or make use of any obscene discourse, he shall be fined in two-pence for the first offence, four-pence for the fecond, and fo on. Any member appearing at the meeting intoxicated shall quit the fame when ordered by the President, or be' fined in a shilling; if threatening an injury, or infulting another, two shillings; and committing violence, shall pay five shillings; and if fuch member or members persift in their quarrel, he, or they shall be fined in ten shillings and fix-pence each, or be excluded the Society. The Prefident and Committee shall carefully observe that these Articles are strictly adhered t0, The second secon

ARTICLE XIII.

IF any dispute shall arise among those that are entrusted with the management of this Society, which cannot be decided by the Regulations, the fame shall be decided by a majority of votes at the annual general meeting of this Society. No change to be given upon a meeting night for the fake of the dispatch of - busines. value betalle de la desta de bent sut mill gabien, ARTICLE XIV. 10 - Dauf de de IT shall not be lawful for any person, or persons to dissolve or determine this Society, but under the reftrictions, and with the refervations mentioned in the 12th Section of the faid Act of Parliament for the relief of Friendly Societies.

In conclusion, it is earnestly recommended to all the members of the Society to lead a life of piety and virtue, to cultivate a benevolent intercourse with each other, and faithfully to observe the Rules that are here established.

I folemnly declare that I am not to the beft of my knowyears of age, that I am ledge above in good health, and have not any concealed diftemper or infirmity; that I will endeavour at all times to promote the peace and profperity, and conform to the rules of this Society. And if I should be excluded, I will refign my claim to any property belonging thereto; and I further promife that I will not apply for any relief, except in cafes of fickness, accident, inability to work, or old age; and if I should be obliged to have recourse to the funds of this Society for support, I will use every means in my power to recover my health, and as foon as I am capable of refuming my usual business will immediately inform the Prefes and Stewards thereof.

ARTICLE XV.

DECLARATION

To be made by every Member on admission into the Society.